VIC McCLURE WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

A third entry in the shrievalty contest emerged this week in the person of Vic McClure, of this city.

Mr. McClure is the son of the late J. B. McClure, one of the pioneer hop growers of Ukiah valley. He was born and raised in this section and is popular with a multitude of acquaintances throughout the county. For several years he traveled for the Remington-U. M. C. Company as a demonstrator, and was also employed for some time as a guard at Folsom. He is a crack shot and an experienced mountaineer and hunter, qualities which fit him well for the pursuit of criminals.

He promises if nominated and elected to fulfill the duties of the office to the best of his ability.

Greene C. Burke departed Wednesday for San Francisco for a few days' visit.

A. F. Moulton has been in Humboldt county on business the past week.

HERMAN KOHN FINED ON TWO COUNTS TUESDAY

Herman Kohn, local grocer, who was arrested Thursday of last week and charged with selling intoxicating liquor, entered a plea of guilty to two counts last Monday, one of making a sale and the other of having liquor in his possession. Judge Hurley took the case under advisement until Tuesday afternoon, at which time he imposed a fine of $300 on each count.

Kohn thanked the judge for his leniency and promised to refrain in future from infraction of the law.

The prosecution was conducted by Atty. I. M. Brazier, who appeared for City Attorney C. M. Mannon, the case being proescuted under the city ordinance.

Brazier asked for a jail sentence on each count in addition to the fines, but Judge Hurley took into consideration the circumstances and let the defendant off with a fine.

Yo-Kay-'a' or -'o' We're All for It, So, LET'S GO!!

When the pale-face race undertakes to master the tongue of the Red Man basing his procedure on purely phonetic principles then trouble usually ensues. And so it appears history has repeated itself here in Ukiah during the last week. The Mendocino County Fair Association's executive committee at the present time is stroking its official chin meditatively and reflecting on this problem.

It seems that in selecting a name for the first annual entertainment to be offered the public from September 16 to 23, the committee decided on "The Yo-kay-o Pow-wow and Harvest Festival" with the idea of featuring an Indian village, Indian dances, sports, games, etc. Alas for the short-sightedness of the white man! Comes Dr. J. W. Hudson, wellknown recognized authority on Indian legends, customs, habits, etc., with the information that there is no such word among the Indians as "Yo-kay-o," and offering the proper word as "Yo-kay-a." Dr. Hudson explains that the term, which is purely appellative, was and is used by the Indian tribes of Northern California in referring to the Indians of the Ukiah valley as the "South people, or the Further Down Country Folk." To the average reader there is little difference in the two words, but to the noble Red Man it means much.

It is quite likely that in deference to the Aboriginees that the executive committee of the Fair Association at its next meeting will vote to substitute the word "Yokaya" for "Yokayo."

AUGUST AUDEOUD KILLED BY DYNAMITE EXPLOSION

August Audeoud, a resident of this place for several years, was killed by an explosion of dynamite caps on Robinson creek last Saturday morning.

It is thought that the accident happened while Audeoud was dynamiting trout in the creek. His left leg and left arm were blown off and he had wound some fuse about his arm and twisted it up with a 22 rifle, evidently to stop the blood. Another piece of fuse was wrapped about his abdomen. He had crawled some fifty feet to water after receiving the wounds.

He left town the day before to camp on the creek and told a local jitney driver to come back for him that night. He did not show up at the road, however, and the next morning his wife and A. Sanchez went to look for him. They found his remains as stated above.

The coroner's jury brought in a verdict of accidental death.

DELINQUENT TAX PAYMENTS SMALLER THAN LAST YEAR

County Auditor J. J. Mathews reports that the amount of taxes delinquent this year is substantially less than last year. The amount of delinquent taxes last year was $11,117.34, out of a total charge of $702,982.25. This year the charge was $682,894.14 and the delinquencies were $10,786.14. Many of the delinquencies were among the Indians in the Round valley section.

The delinquencies last year were a little over 1.4 per cent, while those of this year were a little over 1.5 per cent.

Taking all things into consideration, this is a splendid average and speaks well for the wealth of our county.

STOCK COMPANY COMES WELL RECOMMENDED

The Maylon Players, a well known stock company, will play at the Victory theatre in this city next Tuesday evening, presenting the popular drama, "Bought and Paid For."

This company comes well recommended. They have been playing for some time all through the state, meeting with uniform success. They played six weeks to crowded houses at the new Woodland theatre, and exchanges carry good press notices in regard to their work.

They carry ten people and intersperse vaudeville between the acts of the play.

TO ENTERTAIN STATE SEC.

A special meeting of the auxiliary of Lewis White Post has been called for tomorrow night at the gymnasium, at which time the state secretary, Mrs. Drendell, will be present. A social time will follow the business meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Housing Problem for Pow-wow Engaging Committee's Attention

The matter of a site for the Yo-kay-o Pow-wow, September 16-23, is now giving the officials of the Mendocino County Fair Association no little concern particularly in view of the fact that the committee on procuring the necessary tents for the big entertainment is still negotiating with the manufacturers of "big tops." However, assurance is given from headquarters that there is no serious doubt or cause for worry regarding either problem. Exposition Manager William Horstman philosophically remarks that these details are only some of the many that will have to be met and worked out between now and the opening date of the Pow-wow. All fairs have them, he says.

The Pow-wow executive committee selected the site of the vacant tract on the right of way of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company between Perkins street and Clara avenue, which is an irregular area measuring something like one thousand feet in length and from fifty to one hundred and seventy-five feet in width. These measurements include the land on which is at present located the old warehouse used by the company that constructed the dam. It is planned to have this building removed before the summer is over. The use of the railroad's property has been tendered the Fair Association by Acting Manager Gillogly.

Another site that was considered by the committee was that immediately east of the railway station. The railroad company, however, expressed itself as opposed to having this property used for a fair or entertainment such as is planned due to the likelihood of accidents.

There are one or two other available sites further from the business district but the committee is desirous of holding the Pow-wow as near the business district as possible.

Plans are to soon be made at Fair Association headquarters to establish an information and housing and rooming bureau for the benefit of visitors to the Pow-wow. The local hotel facilities will be over-taxed many times by the crowds and it is planned to list every available room in town so that when visitors inquire for accommodations they may be referred to comfortable quarters. Later on a general appeal will be made to the entire community to "move over" and make room for the Pow-wow visitors.

A plan has also been set on foot to endeavor to arrange for several small conventions to be held in Ukiah during the period in which the Pow-wow is in progress. Camping conditions should be ideal at that season of the year and many, no doubt, will avail themselves of the auto park and other camp sites in this vicinity. One meeting to be attended by 600 or 700 delegates is already practically assured but definite announcement will not be made until later.

Inquiries regarding exhibit space are being received at headquarters almost daily even at this early date, not only from local business concerns but those from out of town. One manufacturing concern at San Jose has made inquiry regarding space for a big exhibit. No reservations for exhibit space will be made until the contract for the tent has been closed and a chart of the interior arrangement made by Mr. Horstman.

Assurances of interset and cooperation in the Pow-wow have been received from a number of different rural and adjacent communities including Redwood valley which is the first to be heard from. At a meeting held last Sunday afternoon in Redwood valley General Chairman T. W. Maguire and Secretary Brice W. Hoskins were invited to talk and explain the plan for the Yo-kay-o Pow-wow and Harvest Festival. The citizens of Redwood valley assured the local men they would cheerfully cooperate in every way possible, and a committee to take charge of the work was named and is composed of J. W. Cowen, chairman, V. Goodpasture, Jim Winsby, Mrs. Nels Nelson and Mrs. A. M. S. Kinsler.

Officials of the Fair Association will visit every community possible during the next few weeks to carry the message of the Pow-wow, and a cordial invitation to line up in presenting to the thousands of visitors an exposition of which the entire county and its immediate environs in Lake, Sonoma and Humboldt may well feel proud.

ODD FELLOWS JOURNEYED TO SCOTIA SATURDAY

Local Odd Fellows, accompanied by their ladies, journeyed to Humboldt county last Saturday, being joined in the trip by members of the Odd Fellows from Willits, Fort Bragg, Laytonville and other places. The delegation was met at Pepperwood by a delegation of the Scotia Club, of Scotia, with a band, and proceeded thence to Fortuna, where a supper was served in the park by the Business Men's Club.

The first degree was put on in the evening by the Ukiah degree team and the third by the Willits lodge.

Following the lodge work a banquet was served and dancing held sway until a late hour.

Some twenty-five members from the Ukiah and 40 from Willits were in the delegation from this county.

Lakeport Too Strong for Ukiah Sluggers

Hits were not made by Ukiah when hits were needed to bring in runs last Sunday in the baseball game on the local diamond, and Lakeport returned home victorious by a score of 10 to 5. Ukiah made as many hits as the visitors, but simply couldn't get them at the psychological moments. At that, the game was good and enjoyed by a large crowd of fans.

Next Sunday Ukiah will take on the Durant Motors, one of the strong amateur teams from the section about the bay, and a good game is anticipated.

CITY TRUSTEES ENACT MONTHLY ROUTINE BUSINESS

Contracts for city printing were awarded the lowest bidders on all items. The Dispatch-Democrat was made the official paper for the current year, bids for advertising being the same by both papers and the Republican Press having been the official paper for last year.

It was the sense of the board that the city sewer system be cleaned and flushed.

It was the sense of the board that the city lot at the corner of Henry and School streets be sold and the proceeds devoted toward buying additional ground north of the gas plant.

Two new fire hydrants were ordered purchased.

OFFICIAL'S REPORT SHOWS GOOD FINANCIAL CONDITION

Mendocino county is in splendid financial condition, according to the monthly balance sheet of County Treasurer Clair Smith. The balance on hand June 5 was $614,941.24. The balance May 1 was $479,830.22. Receipts for May totalled $222,466.08 and disbursements $87,355.06.

R. Elder, $433.20; Judge Hurley, fees, $6, fine $25.

Woodmen of World Have Big Meeting

The Woodmen of the World held a big meeting in this city last evening, when they were addressed by Peter F. Gilroy, district deputy council commander for the Pacific Coast jurisdiction.

Following the lodge work a banquet was enjoyed by some sixty lodge members and their friends.

KILLED IN RUNAWAY

Deputy Coroner Dick Andrews was called to Comptche last Thursday to hold an inquest on the remains of John N. Wolfe, of Healdsburg, who was killed in a runaway accident. Wolfe was on a visit to his son, Jack Wolfe, and had arrived but a few hours before the runaway occurred.

The father accompanied his son, Jock Wolfe, to the woods after a load of wood when the team ran away. The elderly gentleman grabbed the lines from his son and was thrown out, sustaining a fractured skull. He was 71 years old.

PAST SACHEMS TO COME

The local Redmen's lodge reports all in readiness for the convention of the Past Sachems' Association of this district, which begins here tomorrow evening. A big parade tomorrow evening will be followed by degree work. Sunday morning the Association will meet and a barbecue will be served the visitors at noon at the municipal park.

GEORGE OWENS RELEASED FROM CUSTODY TUESDAY

George Owens was released from custody the first of the week, the authorities considering that he had served sufficient time to pay the penalty for issuing a fictitious check at Willits, Owens having already served some six months.

After he had been convicted an appeal was taken by W. D. L. Held, his attorney, on the ground that the prosecution had not shown that he had credit at the bank on which the check was drawn. The Supreme court allowed a new trial, but District Attorney Gibson withdrew the complaint, as Owens has served about six months and the district attorney did not believe that the expense of a second trial was warranted under the circumstances.

When Owens was up before Judge Preston on the hearing of the petition for dismissal he was asked by Held whether he would rather have a new trial or be turned loose. He replied that he would rather have a second trial, whereupon Held resigned from the case. Subsequently it developed that Owens was hard of hearing and had misunderstood the question, believing Held had asked him whether he would rather have a new trial or go back to jail. Held then renewed the petition and it was allowed by Judge Preston.

BODY RECOVERED FROM WRECKED GAS LAUNCH

FORT BRAGG, June 7.—The body of Frank Lund was recovered from the wrecked launch Mae Hyman when she was towed into San Francisco bay Monday.

Lee Pesola, Mr. Birchisle and the fourth member of the crew are believed to have been washed overboard when the boat capsized.

The Mae Hyman sailed from Pt. Arena last Monday evening. Her cargo consisted of fir logs in the forward hold and deck and butter and cheese in the rear hold. She was built for a capacity of 65 tons and it is estimated that she had 90 tons aboard.

The logs which she carried were from 8 to 12 feet in length and up to 15 inches in diameter.

It is believed that the little boat encountered rought weather that night and capsized when the logs suddenly shifted.

The watch in Lund's pocket stopped at 12:15 and the clock in the cabin a few minutes later.

The wreck was discovered Sunday and four fishing launches had lines on it when a government boat took it in charge.

The little craft was righted and pumped out at pier 39 in San Francisco bay. All of the deck load was gone but the keel of the life boat was still fast to the boat, which fact indicates that the accident happened quickly and the crew did not have time to put out in the small boat.

No serious damage was done the launch and the insurance company has put her on the dry dock and will make repairs as quick as possible.

FEW HOPS LEFT IN LOCAL GROWERS' HANDS

Few hops remain in the hands of local growers, according to Frank Albertson, local broker, who keeps constant tab on the situation. He states that there are 731 bales of 1920's and 950 of 1921's still left with the growers.

This week Bert Johnson sold to Ben Hall 74 bales of 1921's at 11c and 98 bales of 1920's at 8c. Kirk Ford sold 60 bales of 1920's to Proctor at 8c.

News From the Nation's Capitol

WASHINGTON, June 2.—President Harding, apparently, does not intend to accept the verdict that the recent Republican primaries in Illinois, Indiana and Pennsylvania, where Old Guard reactionaries and defenders of the administration went down in defeat, were a repudiation of the Executive or his administration, for the administration organs are boldly charging that the verdict was a repudiation of the Republican Congress and not of the administration.

The Chicago Tribune, the administration organ of the Middle West, is positively denunciatory of the work of the present Congress, in seeking to shield the Executive from the consequences of Old Guard defeat. It declares that the the President's record is clean and constructive, and then says: "We can hardly say as much of the present Congress. If repudiation is seen in recent state primaries it is repudiation not of President Harding but of a Congress which has been marked by delays, bickerings, private interests, injustice and lack of construction."

The cue given by the Chicago Tribune to place all of the clame upon Congress and relieve the President of his just share of the responsibility for the defeat of the supporters of his administration, is taken up by the President's organ and mouthpiece, the Washington Post, which editorially endorses the impassioned utterances of the Tribune to the extent of reprinting them with the added comment that whether the voters of those states were primarily anxious to rebuke Congress or not, the effect of their vote seems to be a rebuke which Congress may heed."

After saying that "the situation in the Senate at this moment constitutes an indictment of the good sense of the Republican party," the Post charges the Republican Senate with "making a record of absenteeism and neglect of public business, which will surely return to plague them." It points out that with sixty Republicans in the Senate there has not yet been present a quorum on any roll call during the tariff discussion, and asks: "How can any Republican Senator absent himself from the Senate at this juncture and then ask his constituents to reelect him on the theory that he has done good and fathful service?"

The panicky conditions in Republican affairs have reached the stage where it is evident that Congress is to be made the goat if the administration mouthpieces can bring it about, otherwise why this concerted action on thier part in contracting the record of the President with that of Congress in a wey that eulogizes the Executive and condmens the Congress in language as strong as that used by Democrats or the general public?

This attitude upon the part of the administration's organs raises the question whether or not the Republican Congress will silently bear the sole blame for the disaster which has overtaken the reactionary wing of the party, and thus admit that it is unworthy to be further trusted, and at the same time permit the President to escape his share of the blame.

Admittedly this is a Do-Nothing Congress, but might it not have done something if it had had agressive and constructive leadership on the part of the President?

Admittedly this is no time to try to revise the tariff, but was it not President Harding who insisted that a tariff bill should be passed?

Admittely the bonus issue and bonus bill have been muddled, but has not the President's attitude upon that measure been shifting and uncertain from the beginning?

Admittedly the tax bill is a sad disappointment, but was it not an administration tax bill, and did not the President plead for the kind of a tax bill the reactionaries voted for?

Admittedly the Republican the Republican Senate reduced the dignity and standing of that body to its lowest level when it seated Newberry, but was not Newberry the President's close friend and associate, and was the seating of Newberry any greater offsense in morals than the appointment of Nat Goldstein or the appointment of men indicted with Newberry to be Federal district attorneys in the state of Michigan?

These are some of the questions that will inevitably arise if the Republican Congress, now repudiated by the administration organs, including the one supposed always to speak the President's mind, shall decide that the administration must bear its share of responsibility for the repudiation of the reactionary Congress and the reactionary administration.

Daugherty-Felder-Morse Scandal—Campbell Blocks Investigation.

While offcial Washington and the country at large were discussing the ordorous Fall-Denby-Sinclair Naval Oil scandal and the maladorous Nat Godlstein scandal, and while the unsavory Newberry scandal was cropping up here and there in the primary campaigns, the public nose has been assailed by a whiff of the Daugherty-Felder-Morse scandal under discussion in the Senate, the House and the public press.

The original charges against Attorney General Daugherty, it should be remembered, were brought by two Republican Congressmen, Woodruff of Michigan and Johnson of South Dakota, for failure to prosecute war fraud cases, involving severe personal criticism of some of the Attorney General's assistants and employees, with the allegation that so long as these men remain in the Department of Justice and have anything to do with these cases, the department will not function. The charges were accompanied by a resolution for an investigation, and although the committee to which it was referred ordered it reported favorably, Chairman Campbell (Rep., Kans.,) one of the hardboiled faction, gave it a pocket veto and has not yet reported it out.

When Senator Caraway, one of the most skillful political vivisectionists that ever graced the Senate Chamber, referred one day to Attorney General Daugherty's connection with the Morse case, Senator Watson of Indiana rushked recklessly to his defense, resulting in the publication of correspondence, which for the first time revealed the details of Mr. Daugherty's connection with Morse and Thomas B. Felder, a Morse attorney, and which completely shattered the Watson defense.

Senator Caraway's suggestion that Daugherty should resign to prevent embarrasment of the President has been supplemented by the press, including the New York Tribune, one of the leading Republican organs of New York State and the nation.

One of the most serious phases of the Daugherty-Morse-Felder expose is the charge made by a former Department of Justice investigator in one of the war fraud cases that Thomas B. Felder, attorney for the defendant, attempted to hire him at the suggestion of Attorney General Daugherty. Unless this charge is disproved, the demand for Attorney General Daugherty's resignation or impeachment is likely to become unanimous.

Recent Scandals of Harding Administration.

In recalling the Newberry scandal it will be remembered that Senator Newberry was a personal friend and social favorite of President Harding; that two men indicted with Newberry were appointed by President Harding to be United States district attorneys in Michigan; that the appointment of the notorious Nat Goldstein was made in the face of general public knowledge of his connection with the Lowdeu primary slush fund; that President Harding in the public prints endorsed the leasing of the last naval oil reserves to subsidiaries of the Standard Oil trust, although these leases were made secretly and had to be ferreted out by the vigilant John B. Kendrick, Senator from Wyoming; that President Harding has never yet explained his wholesale discharge of aged and trusted employees in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, nor has he done anything to lift the cloud he placed upon the lives of these men and women who had won preferment in the government service by long and efficient service.

The foregoing takes no account of the manner in which the President trampled upon the principle and policy of the Civil Service, nor of his many bad minor appointments.

The Profiteers' Tariff.

New York Herald, (Rep.)—It is about a year since Congress passed the emergency tariff act to protect the American farmer from being undersold in his own home market by a flood of agricultural products from across the northern border. The results are roughly covered in the trade between the Dominion and the United States for the twelve months to April 1 last. They show that while the emergency tariff has been in effect we have lost nearly $100,000,000 more in sales to Canada than Canada has lost in sales to us. And to that the exisiting emergency tariff is a gentle tap compared with the blow the Fordney and McCumber schedules could give to our whole foreign trade.

Indianapolis News (Ind.)—For the policy to which it is sought to commit the Republican party—the policy of price-raising—is very dangerous, and especially so in a year in which a congressional election is to be held. The question presented is difficult—whether to go through with a bad business or to withdraw from it. The mistake was in turning the fortunes of the party over to Fordney, and men of his school. Probably not in the history of the country has there been a worse tariff bill than that reported to the Senate by Senator McCumber and his committee, unless it be the one prepared by Mr. Fordney's committee, and passed by the House of Representatives.

Brooklyn Eagle (Ind.)—If the Republican leaders of Congress cannot see what is visible to Republican newspapers of distinction all over this country they are in a sorry plight. Those newspapers protest against the tariff bill not because they wish to make trouble for the Republican party, but because they know that persistence in folly by the party itself will inevitably lead to disaster at the polls.

Chicago Tribune (Rep.)—Absolutely no appreciation of a change in international trade relations brought on by the war was displayed. The tariff makers, led by Fordney and McCumber, had learned nothing and forgotten nothing. . . . . Special interests appeared before the committee as always, argued their points for protection of their own industries through a prohibitive tariff, and for the most part got what they wanted. Each interest saw only as far as its own nose and disregarded all those around it. . . . . The potash interest . . . . obtained a high tariff to keep out importations of this commodity, thus raising the farmer's cost of reducing any probable advantage to be obtained from a high agricultural tariff. And the consumer pays the cost, while trade is destroyed. . . . The bill reeks with such errors and injustices. The public is disgusted. Only the many individual interests, which have been taken care of are satisfied.

LETTER FROM LOWER POTTER

CENTERVILLE, May 7.—Mrs. Stella McGuffin entertains the Ladies' Union Social Club today, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mable Hansen.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sacks' baby is improving.

The Farm Bureau picnic here the 3rd was a decided success from every point of view. It will long be remembered by everyone that had the pleasure of attending. There was about two thousand people present. A big dance in the hall at night finished a day of pleasure. Plates were laid for 232 people, and a fine supper was served by the committee.

Sam Graves and family and Russel Spencer and family made a pleasure trip to the coast Sunday.

Mrs. Anna Van Buren has returned to her mountain home near Willits, "The Fan Van Ranch."

The students of the Union high school passed through Pomo Tuesday on their way to Blue Lakes, where they enjoyed a picnic.

Mrs. P. Russie is reported on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Griffits are moving up on the Stetson ranch today.

SHOVEL CRACKS BEAM IN NAVARRO BRIDGE

ALBION, June 7.—The inability of the Navarro bridge to carry the weight of the big steam shovel which has to be used in building the new south Navarro grade has made it necessary to postpone this work.

An attempt was made last week to take the shovel across the bridge but a needle beam cracked and the heavy piece of machinery was moved back off of the structure as quick as possible.

In all probability the bridge will be strengthened later on or the shovel will be moved across the river at a convenient point up the stream.

Mrs. Neil Anker and mother, Mrs. Barrick, left for San Francisco for a visit last Monday.

Mrs. Mamie Parker and daughter, Veva, departed Sunday for San Francisco, where they will spend two weeks.

ATTENTION WOOL GROWERS

We will offer a list of prizes for the eight BEST FLEECES of WOOL grown in California.

In order that there may be an equitable distribution of prizes we have divided the State of California into two zones. All north of Stockton to be known as "Zone No. 1" and all south of Stockton to be known as "Zone No. 2."

In each of these respective zones we will award a like set of prizes in amounts as follows:

FIRST PRIZE .....$200.00 SECOND PRIZE $150.00
THIRD PRIZE .....$100.00 FOURTH PRIZE $50.00

Wools will be judged in accordance with their QUALITY, CONDITION, STAPLE SHRINKAGE and BREEDING, and SIZE OF FLEECES. All fleeces to be numbered and growers name withheld until prizes shall be awarded.

The judges will be three disinterested men thoroughly capable of making the awards, one of whom will be selected from the State Agricultural Department of Davis Cal.

We believe this will help encourage BETTER BREEDING and improve the quality and handling of wools raised in this state, and encourage greater production of WOOL and SHEEP in California.

Fleeces must be shipped "EXPRESS COLLECT" to our office 787 Mills Building, San Francisco, before July 1, 1922. Prizes awarded August 1, 1922.

All growers eligible to compete, regardless of quantity.

"FIGHTING PARSON" TO DESCRIBE BIG CLEAN-UP

"The Big Game" is Subject of Noted Chicago Pastor at Chautauqua.

Back in Chicago there are hundreds of once wayward girls and boys, of former dive-keepers, drug-users, gamblers, crooks and gunmen, who became useful citizens through their acquaintance with Chicago's famous

"fighting parson," Dr. Elmer Lynn Williams, who speaks at Chautauqua the sixth night. And there are equally as many who hate him with undying hatred and who have threatened his life repeatedly. The reason? Well, Dr. Williams "cleaned-up" the famous protected zone of the North side—a vice-center of the world—following an eight-year campaign.

LIVESTOCK NOTES

California Shrould Have More Sheep

In days gone by, the development of the sheep industry depended largely upon the value of wool. In later years, however, the public has come to learn that it had been overlooking a valuable food by frequently neglecting to include mutton in the dietary. Mutton and lamb are now recognized as being very palatable and rank as high as other meats in nutritive value. Another factor which commends mutton and lamb to the meat-eating public is the fact that this species of animal is rarely condemned under inspection for having dangerous diseases communicable to man.

With the ever-increasing demand for wool and mutton, the California Department of Agriculture considers the outlook for sheep raising in California extremely encouraging. As is well known, sheep thrive best in a mild climate and from this source the market draws its supply of mutton and lamb much earlier in the spring than it does from sheep-raising districts where the winters are long and severe.

Having such ideal conditions in this state for the rapid development of all kinds of live stock, the sheepman of California is afforded the opportunity of putting spring lambs on the eastern market at a time when lambs raised in that section have not matured sufficiently to be offered in competition to our lambs which have been made "rolling fat" with milk and succulent pasturage.

The sheep is now recognized as a truly dual purpose animal and with the great demand for wool and mutton it is quite evident that the sheep industry, as well established as it is in California, is yet in its infancy. The encouraging prospects for its growth in this state, so well suited for its rapid development, should induce those interested in the raising of live stock to give this branch of animal husbandry serious consideration.

When Is a Calf Carcass Veal and When Beef?

There seems to be marked variation of opinion as to what is meant by the word veal. Ordinarily, when one hears the word uttered he thinks of the carcass or meat of a young bovine. In most cases this conception of the meaning of the word veal is sufficient and it can be dismissed from the mind without further consideration; but, when one is called upon to state just what constitutes veal, there may be some difficulty experienced in determing when a bovine carcass is or is not to be regarded as veal.

The California Department of Agriculture is sometimes called upon to decide whether or not a rather heavy carcass should be classified as veal or beef and the decision conforms to the conclusion of authorities on the subject which is as follows:

"Calf carcasses weighing not less than three hundred pounds with light-colored fine-grained flesh are classified as veal."

Department of Agriculture Solves Riddle.

When it weighs only 5 pounds?

The Division of Weights and Measures of the California Department of Agriculture has issued warnings to housewives, who purchase from "house-to-house" canvassers, that they should be on guard against clever tricksters, no matter how plausible a story this unique class of fakers presents.

Recently two men were apprehended, arrested and fined in the south for "short-weighting" in selling smoked meats. The desire to obtain hams and bacon at prices much less than local stores, led many women to be taken in by the swindlers.

The meats in question were all that tempting hams and bacons should be, but—the scales upon which these commodities were weighed, were so grossly in favor of the vendor, that they eventually led to their arrest.

The men in question, sold their products from an automobile explaining that their hams and bacons could not be purchased from stores because "they were home cured."

One housewife bought what she supposed was a 10 pound ham at 35c a pound! Only to discover later that the porcine delicacy weighed but five pounds! Loss $1.75. Another purchased a 10 pound side of bacon that actually weighed only 5 pounds, 6 ounces! And so on—ad infin.

Something Good to Eat.

The time honored life sustainers known as ham and eggs still continue to occupy a prominent place in the list of foods known to possess marked nutritive values. The prominence of this dish so popularly known as "ham an, " has had a tendency to obscure to some extent many of the palatable dishes prepared from ham and other ingredients besides eggs.

Of the many ways in which ham may be deliciously prepared there is one method of preparation to which the California Department of Agriculture calls attention which has not as yet been popularized apparently on account of limited familiarity with the following receipe:

A slice of ham one inch or more thick, depending on the number of persons to be served. Remove rind and a part of the fat. Dredge well with flour, to which a sprinkling of pepper has been added. Place in a covered earthern or glass dish. Cover ham completely with sweet milk. Bake in a moderately heated oven from one to two hours. The longer and slower the baking process, the better the resulting dish.

The flour and the small amount of fat left adhering to the lean, together with the milk, forms a most delicious gravy to serve with the ham.

If you like ham try it once prepared according to this recipe and there is no doubt you will want to repeat the enjoyment.

Nose Prints.

The thumb print of the Bertillion system which is resorted to as an aid in identifying criminals has proved so effective that a professor in the University of Minnesota has worked out a similar system by which cattle may be identified by nose prints. A comment on the subject coming to the attention of the California Department of Agriculture states that the method serves to further restrict irregularities in the traffic of purebred cattle. The prints are also said to be effective in preventing the falsification of milk production records by substituting heavy milkers for the bona fide competitors.

The system is recommended by the designer as a means of more readily identifying animals of solid color. He also advises that a print be taken of the nose of each registered animal and the same be attached to the registration certificate. This, he claims, will greatly facilitate identification procedure.

CHAUTAUQUA WEEK TO BE EDUCATIONAL

We, as a town, go visiting in other parts of the world at Chautauqua, and we come closer together at the same time. It is a wonderful week.

We hear the current topics discussed by able men. We are introduced to the people of other countries either by natives or friends of these countries. We learn their history and present problems. We become acquainted. We love them. Through the Chautauqua we realize that truly the "Whole World is Kin" because we have the same past, the same present, and are looking toward the same future. We have the same ideals, and are struggling towards the same goal.

The Chautauqua unifies our town. It is the great yearly democratic event. All of us come under the same tent, listen to the same words, have the same lessons brought to us, but each takes that which suits him best. Some of us meet at no other time during the year. We go to different churches; we have different interests; but we look at the same people, hear the same songs and laugh at the jokes during Chautauqua.

Chautauqua week is a week of recreation and pleasure for every man, woman and child. Household duties are reduced to a minimum. Sewing and gardening are laid aside for the present. Everything is made to revolve around the Chautauqua. Even business shuts down during Chautauqua hour.

The Chautauqua week holds the place in the small town that the old time camp meeting held in olden times in the more thinly settled country communities. We enjoy it. We forget the drought, the poor cattle, the small crops, and the short sales. We remember only that this is pleasant; we are having a good time; the speech is fine; the music entertaining; the entertainers amusing; and withal there is a satisfaction that though it is amusing and entertaining, it is also pulling the soul up to a higher plane, and it leaves individuals better than when it came.

We know ourselves and our neighbor better. We are kinder; more sympathetic. In short, we love each other with a great big neighborly love.

This is Chautauqua.—Uvalde, Texas, Leader.

ALCOHOLIC CONTENT NEED NOT BE PROVEN

A decision which has a very important bearing on prosecutions of liquor law violators was made by the United States circuit court of appeals Monday. Incidentally the decision is in line with one made by Judge H. L. Preston of this county in connection with the Bassetti case, and from which Bassetti is now conducting an appeal.

The decision is to the effect that it is not necessary for the prosecution in blind pig cases to prove that whiskey or wine are intoxicating or that they contain more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol. The opinion says:

"It does not require a scientific expert to identify a well known article of manufacture and commerce in common use. The government was only bonud to prove that it was whisky and wine, both of which are forbidden by law."

Violators of the national prohibition law received another blow when the conviction of David B. Driskill was affirmed. Appeal was taken in this case because prohibition agents searched a garage on the premises, though the search warrant called for a search of the man's dwelling. The garage was not owned by Driskill, but the owner, J. Luttner, had given Driskill permission to store goods there. Mrs. Luttner gave the agents permission to search the garage. There the liquor was found. Judge Dietrich, who wrote the opinion affirming judgment, held that the seizure was not unlawful.

He said:

"Under such circumstances to hold the officers guilty of unreasonable search and seizure, in violation of the fourth amendment to the Constitution would be to make of a constitutional provision a fetish instead of a shield against the invasion of personal and property rights."

VISITING ORR'S SPRINGS

The season is now well advanced at Orr's Springs, and a number of local people as well as those from abroad are visiting the well known resort, which is popular for week-end parties.

Messrs. A. P. and Elmer Weger are doing all in their power to keep up the oldtime fame of the resort for hospitality. The table is excellent, and recent renovations have improved the place very much.

"Ukiah people are especially welcome," said Mr. Elmer Weger while in town the latter part of last week. "We like to see our friends from town as often as they care to come."

GRADUATES AT SACRAMENTO

Friends of Miss Elizabeth Moore, formerly of this city, are in receipt of announcement of her graduation from the school of nurses of the Sacramento Hospital, of Sacramento.

The graduation exercises took place June 8.

Local friends will extend to Miss Moore their heartiest congratulations and all wish her the utmost success in her chosen vocation.

Elizabeth Carolyn Rice, the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Rice, of Mendocino, passed away June 3.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Rea were visitors to San Francisco the latter part of last week, returning home Sunday accompanied by George Henley of Shanghai, China, who is renewing old acquaintances.

Fleming Is Baffling Magician

Will Officially Open Chautauqua First Night With Wealth of Bewildering Magic

When Paul Fleming officially opens Chautauqua by uncorking his mysterious bag of magic, you will enjoy one of the cleverest magicians now before the public. He does not stop with the presentation of a number of puzzling tricks. He goes further and evidences a remarkable mastery of baffling technique and ease of manner that wins and a personality that makes magic beautiful as well as entertaining. He has made an art of his work and he takes his art seriously; that is, he permits nothing to go undone that might add to the finish and brilliancy of his performance. Fleming is a college graduate, a member of Phi Beta Kappa, the honorary scholarship fraternity, and of Delta Sigma Rho, the national public-speaking fraternity. He is acknowledged one of America's leading magicians.

APPOINTED PRINCIPAL OF SCHOOL NEAR GRIDLEY

Mrs. George H. Busch, of Potter valley, who has been teaching in Shasta the past year, has just accepted the principalship of a three-teacher school near Gridley, Butte county, and will teach there the coming year.

The school is housed in a modern concrete building and is in a fertile, thickly settled section.

The people of her district will not be disappointed in their selection of Mrs. Busch. She is an able teacher and a woman of splendid character. She was prominent in Potter valley as a leader in social and civic life, served as lecturer of the Grange, and was president of the Progress Club. She also was a member of the 1919 grand jury of this county.

Our readers will remember her as the editress of our Potter valley department in the Dispatch-Democrat.

LOCALS

Mrs. Hal Chalfant, a sister of John Butts, has been a guest at the Butt's home the past week.

Guy Redwine spent Wednesday in Santa Rosa on business connected with his agency for the Dodge cars.

Frank Cook, of Philo, was in town yesterday. Assisted by Ellis Price and Geo. Bennett, he brought over three carloads of sheep. He disposed of his wool this week for 45c, there being about two tons in his lot.

Dr. and Mrs. Carl Hoag motored up from San Francisco last week and spent Saturday and Sunday at the Hoag ranch on the Orr's Springs road. They returned to San Francisco Sunday evening.

Diamond an Inch Wide.

The largest diamond in China, once worn by Gaby Deslys, and having a romantic, mysterious history, has been purchased by a wealthy Chinese of Pekin, whose name is not known. It is centuries old and is said to have been worn in the jeweled turbans of famous court beauties, to have shone as the eye in the forehead of a goddess in a temple in Egypt, and to have played a part in the wars of the ancient world. It was sold for $62,500, but the price would have been $218,000 if the color had been perfect. Its shape is slightly square-round, it weighs 102.69 karats and is more than an inch wide.

All They Were Worth.

The minister dropped into the shop of the village barber, with whom he was at loggerheads, for a shave. When it was finished he proffered the barber three pence.

"I'll take it in preaching," replied the barber, refusing the offered coins.

"My friend," rejoined the minister, with some dignity, "I haven't three penny sermons."

"That's a right, sir," replied the barber, "then I'll come three times!"—London Telegraph.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR SALVAGING OF BANKS

FORT BRAGG, June 7.—More signatures to the Depositor's Agreements are necessary if the affairs of the First National and First Bank of Savings are to be kept out of the hands of a receiver. This is the report brought back from San Francisco by C. R. Johnson, Harry Shafsky and W. G. Collins, following a conference with the chief federal bank examiner and the state superintendent of banks.

To date deposits to the amount of $975,000 have been signed up, leaving a balance of $250,000 which has not yet been signed.

A few have refused to sign the agreements and the remainder chiefly represent people living out of town and in distant cities.

The 500 shares of stock of the proposed new bank which was offered depositors has been heavily oversubscribed by depositors.

The Rousing Campaign of 1902

J. Q. White "Comes Back" A Big Winner

The "Rise" of Robert Duncan

By J. B. SANFORD

The campaign of 1902 was a humdinger from start to finish. The rivalry within the republican ranks gave hope to the democrats and a great effort was made to put up the strongest ticket possible with the assurance that victory would be theirs. There was a contest between J. H. Smith and F. M. Weger for sheriff and between W. G. Poage and Robert Duncan for district attorney. Smith beat Weger by a small vote and Duncan nosed out Gus Poage by a narrow margin. J. Q. White, who made the fight against Judge Mannon in 1896 and lost, was again nominated for judge. M. A. Thomas was re-nominated for assessor, Ed. R. Wright for tax collector, J. F. Barbee for superintendent of schools, Pat Connolly for recorder, John Taylor for coroner, James A. Jamison was nominated for auditor, H. J. Randall, for surveyor, and N. A. Barnett for treasurer.

There was no candidate for the assembly in the primaries and that was left to the convention. George J. Brown and R. T. Gray buttonholed the delegates for the place, but the convention seemed favorable to F. M. Weger who had made such a gallant fight for sheriff. Brown and Gray thereupon withdrew and the name of J. C. Ruddock was placed before the convention, but he made a speech declining the honor and F. M. Weger was nominated by acclamation. For supervisors, T. E. Long of Covelo, was nominated in the third district and John C. Lane in the fifth district.

The delegates to the state convention were instructed to vote for J. B. Sanford for state senator as he had carried the primaries over J. C. Ruddock by a three to one vote.

All was not smooth sailing in the republican convention which was held in Ukiah. The fight between "boss" A. M. Duncan and the Ukiah "push," led by J. M. Mannon, was lively. Alex Duncan had control of the convention and secured a delegation favorable to his man Tom Flint for governor. He seemed content with this and his own re-nomination for supervisor in the fifth district, and permited the nomination of the strongest men for the county offices. J. M. Mannon was re-nominated for judge, Wm. Hanen for the asembly, J. N. Rea for treasurer, F. L. Caughey for audtior, and the following new men were placed on the ticket: J. L. Johnson for sheriff, W. F. Stingley for district attorney, J. C. Halliday for tax collector, D. E. Paxton for assessor, L. C. McCloud for coroner, Susan Harris for superintendent of schools, G. E. Parker for recorder and B. N. Springer for surveyor.

For county clerk Hale McCowen was re-nominated for the fifth time by a unanimous vote and the democrats left the place vacant as there was no one who had the nerve to go up against him. For supervisors, P. L. Hall was nominated in the third district and A. M. Duncan in the fifth district.

The democrats in state convention nominated Franklin K. Lane for governor, Theodore A. Bell for congress and J. B. Sanford for state senator.

The big fight was over the judgeship as J. Q. White's friends thought he had not gotten a square deal in 1896. White made a close campaign and so did Judge Mannon. All the candidates got out and made a personal fight and appeal to the voters. It was an interesting fight from the politician's standpoint. The democrats made the slogan "Lane, Bell and White," and the other candidates followed it up. Lane carried the county by 211, Bell by 182 and White by 218. The vote on the judgeship does not represent a party vote in that proportion, as Judge Mannon got many democratic votes and Judge White received the support of many republicans. The democrats were very much elated that they had "come back" in such good shape. The republicans elected only three men on the ticket—McCowen without opposition and Rea and Caughey. Both factions in the republican ranks seemed satisfied as both Mannon and Duncan were defeated. The contest between Jamison and Caughey was very close, Caughey winning by the narrow margin of only 17 votes.

This was the "come back" of Judge J. Q. White who made such a fair judge that he was re-elected and re-elected until he had served 18 years on the bench, exceeding the tenure of Judge McGarvey by one year.

This might be termed the "rise" of Robert Duncan, of whom the county is very proud. Robert Duncan is a Mendocino county boy. He graduated from Hastings College of the Law and went to Riverside to practice, forming a law partnership with A. A. Caldwell, afterwards state senator. The rush to the gold fields of Alaska came on and Bob was among the crowd that sought fame and riches in the far north. He stayed up there two years and returned to California leaving his gold up there in the ground somewhere. He got back to Ukiah with a copy of the political code in his pocket. He didn't need any law books in the Klondike. Well, Bob opened up a law office in the Marks building and won his first case and attracted the attention of the lawyers and the laymen that attend court. He ran for district attorney against W. G. Poage, the incumbent of the office, and did some great hustling on the day of the primary, walking over 300 miles (he said) in quest of the elusive voter. He carried Ukiah by a small majority which gave him the nomination.

Mendocino county played in luck when Bob Duncan came back from the Klondike. From the moment he took office he showed that he was a district attorney that knew his business, and what's more he knew the law and hwo to expound it. Without disparaging the efforts of previous district attorneys it is safe to say that Duncan made the best district attorney the county ever had. He is a great lawyer, the greatest in many respects the county has known. He never overtries a case; he quits just at the proper time and never wearies a jury. He had the confidence of the people of Mendocino county to a high degree and could have become judge, but the salary was not sufficient to attract him.

Hale McCowen was highly complimented as the democrats did not nominate any one against him. He polled his own party vote of 2129 and 1271 democrats voted for him.

The vote at the general election was as follows:

Governor—Lane, Dem., 2340; Pardee, Rep., 2129.

TALK INTO, NOT ACROSS TELEPHONE TRANSMITTER

In most repsects the telephone is such an easy instrument to use that we are very likely to overlook a few simple and really obvious practices that ought to be observed in its use. For instance, the number of people who not talk directly into the mouthpiece of the transmitter but speak across the mouthpiece, and often with thier lips several inches away, is really surprising. Let the telephone user observe his own practice in this respect and bear in mind that the correct position is with the lipe about but a fraction of an inch in front of the mouthpiece. To talk with the mouth six inches away from the transmitter cuts down the volume of sound which enters the mouthpiece thirty to forty times. It is as unsatisfactory as conversation with a person when he is thirty feet away rather than when he is but three or four feet away.

In case either party to a telephone conversation has any difficulty in understanding, a marked improvement will result from talking slowly and distinctly. In fact, at no time when using the telephone is anything gained by rapid speaking.

As an aid to understanding a telephone message when one's surroundings are noisy, the transmitter houthpiece may be covered with the hand while listening. Thus shuts out the extraneous noise from the transmitter and prevents the reproduction of this noise in the receiver which the listener holds to his air, where it would tend to confuse the distant speaker's voice.

These three practices, although evtremely simple, will, if consistently observed, be found to yield results amply justifying the slight attention they require.

Ross, Home, Gives Interview On Conditions in Europe

John S. Ross of Mendocino, arrived home last Tuesday morning from an extended trip through Europe. In a short interview with the Fort Bragg Advocate he states that Germany is the most prosperous of the war stricken nations. The money value in Germany is exceedingly low but the cost of living is accordingly low. Everybody is working and the low cost of manufacturing is enabling the nation to build up a great business in South America, England and other manufacturing centers where wages are high not being able to compete with her.

There are no unemployed in Germany. The merchant marine which was lost by the war is rapidly being rebuilt, and after this is completed it is said that Germany will advance the value of her money.

The former rich people are the only ones who are said to be suffering from the present conditions. Taxes are low in Germany.

In England the money value is almost at par but there is a great mass of unemployed, who are supported by the government. Taxes are excessive.

Mr. Ross stated that he noted more war cripples in England and on the streets of London than any other place.

The ladies and girls of this city are given to the smoking of cigarettes, the habit seeming to be much more general than in Paris. It was a common thing to see father, mother, and daughters smoking in a restaurant.

The money value in all of the other war stricken nations is down to about one-third of its normal value.

The people of these countries seem discouraged and are anxious to come to America.

In Paris about 75 per cent of the ladies dress in black. The common mass of French people do not yet realize that the Americans saved Paris, and they give the tourist a cold shoulder.

It is not hard for a stranger to see that the manhood of Europe has been sacrificed, and most of the men are runts, crippled, sickly or old.

Excessive taxes are imposed in nearly all of the countries and there seems to be considerable discontent and unrest.

A revolution broke out before the party arrived in Egypt. In Lisbon, Portugal, a revolution was slated for the day their ship arrived but when news of the ship's coming reached port the revolution was postponed.

On his way home, Mr. Ross visited the lumbering district of Canada. Prior to the war a large per cent of this product was imported to Europe. This business has since dropped off entirely as the countries have no money to pay for the lumber.

Canada has passed a law barring all immigrants except farmers and servants, with a view of keeping away the classes which are not accustomed to manual labor.

There is not very much lumber used in Europe. Iron ties are more common than wood ties.

NEWS NOTES FROM COVELO

COVELO, June 7.—Dr. Hargrave and Miss Loretta Riffe leave tomorrow for Oakland.

The alumni will give a banquet at the high school Thursday evening. The seniors and teachers will be their guests.

The high school teachers have all been asked to teach another term.

Mrs. D. Muller left Thursday for her home in Tracy after visiting here several months with relatives.

Miss Lorena Riffe is teaching at William's valley for two weeks. She has taken Mrs. Brereton's position, she being unable to complete the term. Mrs. Brereton has returned to her home in Berkeley.

Chris Hansen of Ukiah is in Covelo this week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Griffith, Mrs. Chas. Johnson and Maynard Begley spent the week-end in Humboldt.

Arnold Taggert of San Francisco is visiting at the home of Wm. Goforth.

Geo. Burgess of Santa Rosa is here on business.

Traffic cops spent a few days in Covelo recently. Several parties were fined for driving cars without licenses.

Mr. Glunz gave a fine illustrated lecture on the Philippines at the Owl theatre Tuesday. Mr. Glunz and his wife are home from the Philippine Islands for a short time only as they are missionaries who have enlisted for a lifetime service. They expect to return to their field (the Philippines) in September. They have spent eighteen years of their life in these islands and Mr. Glunz is authority on conditions there and his words should have weight with the people. He showed by the beautiful pictures taken mostly by himself and colored in Japan the wonderful improvement of the islands under American rule. Mr. Glunz believes heartily that the Philippinos should receive what America so faithfully promised her when the islands came under her rule at the close of the Spanish war. He realizes the importance of these islands but is sure that the Philippinos would be glad of a protectorate over these islands that would grant the United States the privileges so much needed by our nation. We as a nation should keep our faith with this nation, showing the Christian spirit we claim to have. Besides other nations are looking to us; let us not fail them. Let us not destroy their faith.

George Henley, a former resident of this countl, but who has been in the Orient for many years, is here for a visit with S. L. Rea and other relatives.

LEAVE FOR EAST

A. Perelli-Minetti and Charles D. Tribuno, local heads of the California Grape Products Co., left last week for an extended trip to New York, whence they will extend their journey all through the eastern states. They are anticipating a big demand for Caligrapo during the coming season and will make preparations to take care of the increased business.

Judge J. C. Hurley left yesterday for Boonville, where last evening he gave the commencement address to the graduating class of the Boonville high school.

REPORT ON SHEEP AND WOOL MARKET

(California Wool Growers' Assn.)

WOOL

BOSTON, June 5.—From the Fairchild News Service, 1922, through the National Wool Growers' Association. "Boston, trading active but prices tending upward and strong confidence in wools. Quotatoisn on grades, give territory staples up to $1.35 a lb., scoured basis, and all others practically the same as a week ago."

Reported that clip of entire country probably close to three quarters sold.

EUREKA, Nevada.—Contract reported at around 43c during the last week of May.

SHEEP

CHICAGO.—Although May 30th was a holiday receipts of sheep and lambs on eastern markets were greater than last week, with prices sharply lower. Expansion of marketward movement of native stock to such markets as Jersey City, Nashville, Louisville, and Cincinatti and East St. Louis accelerated downward trend. California lambs less in evidence but desirable killing grades only at $14.50 against $15.75 top of the week before. On May 31st a shipment of California lambs, with an approximate 20 per cent out, sold for $15.00. There is a chance of market picking up but southern lambs are liable to run freely at any time.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo.—Telegram, June 5th. "Sheep market steady; native spring lambs $13.75 to $14.-00. No western springers here past week. California and Arizonas quoted up to $14.50. Sheep receipts light."

SAN FRANCISCO.—Dressed lamb market 1c to 2c higher during the past week. Reported 4 cars at 11½c weighed at San Francisco. One sale at 10c near Petaluma. Aged sheep are moving slow on account of preference for lamb at this time. Good fat ewes in limited numbers at 5c to 5½c, delivered at San Francisco. Wethers are quoted at 6½c to 7c at good weights. There is no need to hurry wethers on good feed to the market at the present prices.

KEEP THIS IN MIND: Prices quoted above are top prices. Buyers jump at the opportunity of informing you of all the low priced sales they know about in your section. In certain isolated sections of the state with high freight rates and little competition the highest prices are not being paid. Prices quoted are on good fat stuff.

REPORTED:—A shortage of lambs and ewes in Nevada due to heavy snows and cold weather— a shortage of lambs in Arizona due to heavy liquidation of ewes last fall—70 per cent normal crop of lambs in states of Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Oregon and Washington—an acute shortage of young ewes throughout the West.

A. N. Rawles came over from Boonville yesterday.

FORT BRAGG NEWS NOTES

FORT BRAGG, June 6.—John Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Roach, formerly of Westport, died at South Bend, Oregon, May 22. He had been ill for two years, suffering from rheumatism. Deceased was 14 years, 7 months and 5days old. He is survived by his parents and three sisters. The Roach family moved from this coast to regon four years ago.

Noyo off shore fishermen caught over fifteen tons of salmon Saturday, this being the record catch to date. So far the run has chiefly been of the small silverside variety which are shipped to the San Francisco fresh market. Every indication points to a big season. The last two seasons have been poor. About two hundred botas are now fishing out of Noyo.

John M. Cox died in San Francisco June 3 from heart trouble. He was well known hereabouts, having resided on this coast up to twelve years ago, when he moved to the bay region. Deceased was 52 years and 2 months old.

Fort Bragg turned the tables on Willits Sunday to the tune of 11 to 2. Fisher took the box for the first time this season and his left-handed delivery seemed to have the same snap and pep as of yore, with the exception that he was a trifle wild. He held the hard-hitting valley players down to four hits and two runs and at no time was in any serious pinches. "Warehouse" Lockhart finished out the game for the locals, allowing no runs and no hits. Cleary was not so successful Sunday. For the most part he faked a spit-ball and threw low curves, with an occasional change of pose. The Fort Bragg batters made him put it over and then they clouted it for 13 hits, including a home run by Utschig.

Centipedes Sting Indian Team

The Calpella Centipedes defeated the Ukiah Indians in a return game at Ford's diamond Sunday by a 14 to 7 score.

The Indians claimed eleven straight wins, but Calpella's fast fielding and heavy hitting proved too much for them in their twelth game.

Two weeks ago Calpella lost to them by a score of 9 to 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gambrel returned home Saturday from San Francisco, where they spent ten days. Miss Fannie Green, who was accompanying them, left San Francisco last Saturday for Los Angeles.

A. F. and J. H. Bogner were summoned to San Jose Wednesday on account of the death of their father.

P. D. Hubbard returned the first of the week from Potter valley, where he spent several days on business.

A party complimentary to Mrs. Hans Bloch was given by Mrs. J. C. Johnson yesterday afternoon. Cards and refreshments were the order of the afternoon.

Mrs. Effie M. Heughes left this week for San Francisco for a few weeks' business visit.

Mrs. Donald Brown came over from Chico the first of the week and after a short visit with friends and relatives in town, departed for Orrs, where she will spend several weeks.

BAPTIST CHURCH

SUNDAY MORNING, 11 O'CLOCK

Love, as taught in the Epistle of John

No preaching service Sunday night on account of Baccalaureate service at the Presbyterian Church.

There is no mystery about good oil

It must be made from crudes carefully selected for their "oiliness" and stability. These crudes must be refined to preserve their original characteristics and to make them pure.

In selecting crudes for Zerolene the Standard Oil Company has the advantage of its own large production of practically every type of crude. The company is not compelled to use any particular crude because it happens to be the only one available.

Crudes selected for Zerolene are brought to our refineries in special pipe lines. They are refined by our own patented, high-vacuum process which preserves their "oiliness" and stability.

No other refiner on the Pacific Coast uses any form of vacuum distillation. No other refiner in the United States uses as high a vacuum as this company.

Purity Essential

Zerolene oils are pure. This company has always considered the removal of all detrimental properties and compounds as essential in making Zerolene.

Because of their "oiliness," stability and purity, Zerolene oils give perfect lubrication, and permit the development of the maximum power, speed and gasoline mileage of the car.

TRIUMPH WAS SHORT-LIVED

Professor Remembered to Put Out the Light, but He Had Forgotten Something Else.

At 1:30 a. m. the tired scientist laid down his pen, snapped off the desk light in his study and started upstairs. As he felt his way along the dark hall he was immensely proud of himself for having remembered to put out the light. He saw himself at the breakfast table, receiving the congratulations of the assembled family. He smiled in the darkness as he thought how pleased his wife would be.

Perhaps he should wake her now and tell her, prove to her that this absentmindedness that amused and not infrequently embarrassed her was not as inveterate as she supposed. Certainly it was easy enough to remember things if one tried. He chuckled at the thought of his triumph. He'd show them!

Groping along in the blackness, says the New York Sun, his hand encountered an inexplicable gap in the continuity of the wall. He paused in perplexity. Then sudden
